MANIFESTO

The Waymakers

are self-defined leaders across the world who believe in the potential of all people, and who consider it both a privilege and a responsibility to make a way for others where there is no way.

The Waymakers

see open windows when doors are shut, enter into exclusive spaces and unlock them from the inside. They have walked the road to promise, been advantaged by its rewards, and acknowledge the barriers that have prevented many from doing the same.

The Waymakers

know change doesn't happen through great ideas or good intentions alone. Present and engaged, they usher us toward an equitable world through deliberate and consistent action – with behaviors that redefine culture and norms.

For the Waymakers,

there are no sidelines to watch from. No fences to sit on. No excuses to make. There are only boundaries to cross, roadblocks to remove and paths to forge – day by day... choice by choice.

The Waymakers

lead others through the wilderness, with courage and conviction, to where the rivers of opportunity flow freely and without interruption. They are the leaders who – with their minds assured, their hearts open, and their hands outstretched – change everything...for every ONE.

Who are The Waymakers? WE ARE.
